

You are a star
You are the brightness in the dark night of many souls.
You are our beloved

You are our mother and our sister
You are our soul surge of energy, the creative hand, the loving touch, the yum in the belly!

You are song.
You are heat and You are the coolness.

You have lived many lives already and are stepping into several more to come - all in this one lifetime.
60..... whatever.
a number to be proud of... and ignore.

YOU , my friend - we all love you.
How could we not?
I am there in spirit as you are being celebrated.

We are the lucky ones , to know you to be enriched by you, as we struggle and laugh through it all.
All of us have times we need each other.
I will be there. You will be there.

You are a star.
A bright light that comes from within you illuminates your own path.
Enjoy what you want to enjoy!
Live what you want to live!
Happy Birthday dear friend, mi amiga ( is that right? )

I love you
Gayanne
